1. [] arrived in WCCOMA on 1 May 1972. The orientation at Headquarters followed by home leave. During this time he met with selected officers from the European and Far East Divisions. The majority of time was devoted to Far East operations, and [] also had the opportunity to observe those of the Central European Division, Deputy Chief, Far East Division as well as the Chief of Operations of both Divisions. He was subsequently brought up-to-date on recent developments related to the WCCOMA capability abroad, the new tactical operation and various broader aspects of operations against the [] threat. [] also discussed ASGLOBE operations in [] with the newly appointed C.O., [].

2. On 3 May Major H. Knight held a 20-minute discussion with [] concerning his meeting with the subject of the previous case reference. Knight expressed his pleasure with the development of this case, and noted he hoped it would not be too sensitive or risky to handle. He noted that the German nation had taken before plunged the world into turmoil and expressed his concern that it could happen again in the future. He said he hoped [] would be able to provide a good reading on Subject and his group which would lend itself to the formulation of sound operational judgments.

3. [] was appreciative of the opportunity to discuss operational matters first-hand with Headquarters officers and tested himself with the poise and confidence befitting an officer of long experience. All officers who dealt with his conduct favorably on his professional outlook and flexibility.
